The memory of Gould's Centennial Celebration is still fresh in our minds. Two lovely anthems by the Girls' Glee Club and an excellent address by the Reverend Hilda M. Ives of Portland were a part of the Baccalaureate service. However, the real celebration occurred on graduation day.

Who can forget that splendid reunion of alumni and friends who came in such great numbers from near and far on Commencement Day itself to pay tribute to the school that for a hundred years of struggle and achievement had gathered unto itself such glory in the last four decades? Who can forget the commencement exercises and the pageant "The Spirit of Gould," which depicted every phase of the present many-sided activities of the academy made possible now only by the material blessings with which she has been bestowed?

Who can forget the Alumni Luncheon, for a second time held under a large canopy (this time erected on the athletic field instead of the Bethel Common as for the 1900 reunion), at which Paul Thurston, president of the Alumni Association, bore lightly on his broad shoulders the duties of presiding officer and toastmaster. Who can forget the stirring music throughout the luncheon by the Rumford band or the songs so beautifully sung on the program following the luncheon by Miss Margaret Carter accompanied by Mrs. John Carter? Who can forget Dr. Hanscom's welcome to the alumni and guests or the tribute paid to Mrs. William Holmes of Los Angeles, the mother of eight sons and grandmother of two who were graduates of the academy, when at Dr. Hanscom's suggestion she was made an honorary member of the Alumni Association? Who can forget the glowing terms in which the one hundred years' existence of Gould and its achievements under the inspiring leadership of Dr. Hanscom were spoken of in the addresses given by Mr. Leon V. Walker, State Commissioner of Education Packard, and Governor Brann?

Who can forget that three teas were held in the afternoon—in the principal's home for the pre-1900 group, in the girls' dormitory for the 1900-1920 group, and in the boys' dormitory for the 1920-1936 group, and at which, memories of the past were revived and the significance of the day itself was an underrunning current of thought? Who can forget the band concert held in the afternoon on the campus in front of the gym? Who can forget the added beauty of the campus on that early summer evening in the soft glow of lights strung gaily around while strains of music wafted their way from the gym where the social festivities of the Commencement Reception were under way?

Who can forget the profound regret which was felt by all a short time later when the entire contents of the following message from Mr. Bingham, the late Mrs. Gehring, and Dr. Farnsworth were made known:

"It is a great source of satisfaction to us that this anniversary finds Gould Academy so splendidly equipped materially. The past forty years of the history of this school have been made by one man, Dr. Hanscom. His efforts as a young man, newly called to a practically defunct school, saved this school from oblivion and encouraged its friends by his magnificent example as a teacher to bring aid in time, to save the school that was and build the school that is. It is with the deepest sense of gratitude for and appreciation of his magnificent life work that we watch him pass on the torch of education to a younger man to whom his record will always be a splendid stimulus to give, as has he, without stint, the best that is in him."

Truly, no one can ever forget.

COMMENCEMENT, 1936

The following program was presented at the commencement exercises for the Class of 1937 on June 10, 1937.

Under the direction of Prof. A. E. Mainente, the academy orchestra played the customary "War March" during the procession of seniors and underclassmen to their places.

The salutatory address was delivered by Clinton Bennett. Erland Wentzell transferred the Twentieth Century Club banner to the incoming senior class president. Next was the presentation by Barbara Moore in behalf of the class of a beautiful American flag on a standard; Mr. E. C. Park, as representative of the trustees, accepted it for the school.

Music by the orchestra, followed by a beautiful flute solo played by Mr. Mainente accompanied at the piano by Patricia Goodwin, preceded the presentation of the pageant, "The Kingdom of Verse and Story" by Walter L. Bissell, which was directed by Miss Ruth Leavengood. This was a most unusual and interesting pageant. A huge book, attractively decorated, formed the principle item of stage setting through which the characters from several well-known classics emerged to depict scenes from the books out of which they came. Louise Jacobs, Robert Whitman, and Huston Dodge assisted Miss Leavengood in the staging. The music to the song "Come to Arcady," which was a feature of the pageant, was written expressly for the pageant by Prof. Mainente. Following the pageant the orchestra played two more numbers.

The valedictory address was then given by Margaret Tibbetts. The presentation of awards and conferring of diplomas by Principal Sayles concluded the exercises. Mr. Sayles accepted in behalf of the trustees the first clock to be used in the Academy, presented to the school by Robert Whitman of the Class of 1937.

The following awards were made:

"TOWER OF MEMORIES"

The history of Gould's century of existence is the theme of the Commencement pageant this year. Its title, "The Tower of Memories," and a prologue by Walter L. Bissell, who has furnished so many of Gould's most interesting pageants, and the rest of the pageant was written by Miss Ruth Leavengood, Dramatic Coach at Gould. By means of research in school catalogues of Gould's earliest years and Academy Heralds from 1877 up to the present most interesting bits of lore and amusing anecdotes have been incorporated into the story of the actual growth of the school from 1836 to the centennial year. The characters of the pageant are Memories of some of Gould's most important years who come to the Keeper's sanctum in the Tower of Memories to meet the Tower's newest arrival, the Memory of 1938. At the Keeper's suggestion each Memory tells his or her memories of the school.

The memories pay special tribute to several personages who have been responsible for the growth and development of the Gould that was and the Gould that is, namely, the Reverend Daniel Gould, Dr. Nathaniel True, Dr. Frank E. Hanscom, Dr. and Mrs. John G. Gehring, and Gould's greatest benefactor, Mr. William Bingham, 2d.

At the time of writing it is expected that a screen for the projection of pictures will be a part of the stage-setting and that from time to time the verbal memories will be augmented by picture memories. Mr. C. P. Bailey is in charge of the technical side of the presentation of the slides; Mrs. C. P. Bailey and Miss Dorothy Hanscom are to be responsible for the art work of the picture of the belfry with its gold dome which will also be a feature of the stage setting.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1938, being of sound mind and body, and not wishing to be forgotten soon, present to the students following in our footsteps and to the faculty, these great gifts that we have treasured throughout our four happy years at Gould. We submit this last will and testament.

To Dr. Hanscom goes out deepest gratitude for his interest and kindness toward us during our first two years at Gould.

To Mr. Sayles and Mrs. Kitchin we leave our esteemed thanks for showing so much patience to such a dumb class during our last years.

To Mr. Bailey we leave a new laboratory just in case the present one blows up due to lack of knowledge of some foolish senior.

To Miss Bailey we leave a set of garden implements with which she can keep her garden in bloom in the mathematics room.

To Mr. Fossett we leave "Ye Old Farmer's Almanac" so that he may predict the weather for the coming football games.

To Mr. Anderson we leave our hopes for new and better athletic material in the coming year.

To Miss Leavengood we leave our beautiful voices so that she can tack them onto some unsuspecting persons next year.

To Mr. Myers we leave a new hearing device by which he can detect the whispers of commercial students in the nearby rooms.

To Mr. Combs we leave our hopes for new members for the "Gouldonians" in the coming year.

To Misses Stevens, Lundy and Simpson we leave our regrets that we must depart with only a year's learning from their various classes.

To the Juniors we leave the honorable name "Senior" that we hope they will cherish, uphold, and esteem during their last year at Gould.

To the Sophomores we leave our hopes for their success in anything that they may try.

To the Freshmen we leave our ability to "do and dare" for they may need it in the coming years.

Bequest of Each Senior:

I, George Adams, leave my alarm clock, which does its duty at 7:05 each morning, to Gurdon Buck.

I, Bryant Bean, being of a decorous and loquacious nature, hereby bequeath my oratorical eloquence to Herbert Foote. May it keep and preserve thee from all complications, henceforth and forevermore.

I, Ina Bean, leave my sister, Polly, just as a remembrance of me and mine.

I, Arthur Bennett, do leave to Stubby Wheeler my art, and job as stage carpenter and hope he will do his best.

I, Vivian Berry, leave my position as "Straw Boss" on the senior team to Margaret Bennett.

I, Hazel Billings, leave to the East Bethel crowd a Ford V-8 that they may not be late to school every morning.

I, Jessie Brooks, leave to June Little the unseeable art of chewing gum.

I, Arlene Brown, will my difficulties with the French language to the Sophomore Class to be distributed among its members.

I, Donald Brown, leave a tear, its influence to be used for all Juniors taking European History.

I, Jane Chapin, leave the name of "Howe" to the care of Anne Ring.

I, Ada Cotton, leave my good conduct and work at the cottage to Eva Vashaw.

I, Helen Crouse, leave to Virginia Chapman a good supply of giggles, a hearty laugh, and an ever-lasting smile.

I, Marjorie Fish, leave my giggles and interests in Mexico and Rumford to Mary Robertson.

I, Patricia Goodwin, give to Anne Logofet the time and space I took up on the tennis courts.

I, Florice Grover, leave my chewing gum to fertilize the lawn in front of the Gym.

I, Arthur Haselton, hereby bequeath to David Roberts my ability to drive an automobile.

I, Ralph Hatch, leave a five pound box of "Ritz" crackers to Herbie Foote.

I, Phyllis Hunt, leave to Katharine Loomis my desire to wear socks when the weather is fair!

I, Ethel Jodrey, bequeath to the commercial students a fund which is to be used to build an elevator to the third floor.

I, Norman Johnson, leave a bushel of potatoes to Carl Tucker.

I, Royden Keddy, leave my unexcelled clandestine nature to Parker Brown. Quiet yourself, Parker, I pray, and be at peace.

I, Robert Keniston, leave my discus throwing to the incoming trackmen.

I, John King, leave my deficiencies in bookkeeping to Cecil Wentzell.

I, Frank Littlehale, leave my ability to eat potatoes to Carl Tucker.

I, Elizabeth Lyon, leave my good ranks to my cousin, Barbara Lyon.

I, Brooks McFarland, leave my position as head waiter to Herbert Foote.

I, Nancy Philbrook, leave to Anne Logofet my supply of lipstick in hopes she can wear it next year without interference (from Miss Bailey).

I, Lewis Porter, will my ability in history to "Bud" Paine.

I, Edward Robertson, being of sound mind (?) hereby bequeath my undisputed ability to get away with chewing in mathematics class to Dana Brooks.

I, Jane Runyon, leave my supply of needles and thread to Anne Logofet for imperative needs.

I, Geraldine Stanley, leave my ability for good deportment in school to Margaret Bennett.

I, Mary Stearns, leave to my brother, George, the long rides each day that I'm sure I'll miss (maybe).

I, Jean Sullivan, will to "Buddy" Clough my week-end trips to Gorham with sincere hopes for his enjoyment.

I, Keene Swan, leave all my musical ability to Clinton Estabrook, providing he applies himself at the business end of his bugle and makes good.

I, Christie Thurston, leave to Murray Thurston full ownership of the donkey, which was left to aid Murray and me in the future.

I, Elaine Warren, will a bouquet of memories to the dear Class of '38.

I, Archie Waterhouse, leave a map of Holden Hall to Everett Gavel so he may find his way from the back door to "Nigger Heaven" (third floor).

I, Barbara Whittemore, leave my quiet tongue (?) to Muriel James, hoping she will make use of it.

Post Graduates

I, Edward Caccavo, leave to Lloyd Kennie the charge of the Gouldonians.

I, William Howe, do hereby bequeath to Dana Brooks the entire responsibility for the state of Miss Bailey's and Miss Stevens' minds during basketball games next year.

I, Lydia Ntereros, leave my interest in the U. S. Navy to Claire Tebbets.

I, Isabel Tuell, hereby bequeath a golden key to the music room to Ellen Spear with all rights reserved!

Of a Class History we say little. But for one last word we add that we, as a whole, are glad that we have had the privilege of going through the "Doorway of Opportunity" under the kind and courteous care of Dr. Hansecom, Mrs. Kitchin, and Principal Sayles.

JUNIOR NOTES

The Junior Class has held about five class meetings this year. At the first meeting the following class officers were elected:

President—Dana Brooks
Vice President—Murray Thurston
Secretary and Treasurer—Mary Clough

We are glad to welcome as new members to our class: Martha Bennett, Russell Bennett, Enid Cloukia, Stanley Harvey, Julia Kasregis, Mildred Kasregis, Myrtle Lancaster, Raymond Ripley, and Carolyn Swift.

"Good weather, bad weather,
No matter what the state,
'Cad' never fails us,
Coming in her Ford V-8."

Margaret Bennett

"True friends like ivy on the wall,
Both stand together or together fall."

Martha Bennett and Myrtle Lancaster

"Mike's often seen at the Students' Home,
From which he takes his girl to roam."

Murray Thurston

"Yes, you midget, I really must say,
You're a troublesome comfort every day."

Virginia Smith

"I know I'm small, but I do my best,
It's the 'Little' things that count."

Rodney Wentzell

"She's a girl worth while,
With always a smile,
To her classmates, kind and true."

Clara Silver

"Quiet and reserved, but true,
Not boasting of the deeds you do."

Barbara Hall

"A friend to all is 'Liz,'
Good-natured, kind and jolly;
She's a girl who's out to win,
With no spare time for folly."

Elizabeth Field

"Tall and slender, full of fun,
'Swift' makes friends with everyone."

Carolyn Swift

"That old miracle—'Love at first sight'—
Needs no explanation."

Mellen Kimball

"Stan Harvey's highest mark
Is hunting Lyons in the Park."

Stanley Harvey

"Maidens should be mild and meek,
Swift to hear and slow to speak."

Rita Salls

"She's the ginger in the 'Ginger-Snaps.'"

Helen Lowe

"Teddy is the wit of the class,
That, no one can deny;
He makes you laugh and laugh and laugh,
And does not even try."

"Teddy" Cummings

"We've passed our exams together,
We've scoffed at crams together,
We've lived through jams together
And we each have hoped it won't be long,
'Till we both leave school together."

Morrill Brothers

"A musician, as well as a brilliant scholar,
A good sport and a loyal friend."

Claire Tebbets

"Haste makes waste;
Therefore, I never hasten."

Dana Brooks

"A merry twinkle in her eye,
A kindly word for everyone."

Kathleen Wight

"A smile for every fellow and two for every girl."

Raymond Ripley

"Speech is silver, but silence is golden."

Russell Bennett

"Not so very tall, not so very fat,
But a loyal friend, for all of that;
A little bit quiet, you may have surmised,
But when you know her—oh, you'd be surprised."

Sylvia Bird

"Few can possess such qualities
Of cheerful ways and friendliness."

Alden Marshall

"There are metres in verse,
There are metres in stone,
But the best of all metres,
Is to meet her alone."

Parker Brown

"You're a girl we're glad to claim,
A girl we all admire,
For you have always done your best,
That's all we need require."

Anne Logofet

"We know a girl who is jolly,
We know a pal that is true,
We know a friend that is priceless,
And that is—Yes, 'Bobby,' that's you."

Barbara Lyon

"He's your friend and my friend,
He's a pal to everyone,
Just ask him and he'll help you,
He's faithful to the end."

Maynard Austin

"A favorite with those who know her."
Josephine Smith

"Lydia has genius, talent and tact,
And in her lessons, she knows every fact."

Lydia Norton

"She is gentle, she is shy,
But there's mischief in her eye."

Mary Robertson

"Mysteries of mysteries,
Bashful and shy—
So we thought of Enid
In days gone by."

Enid Cloukia

"The world loves a quiet girl."

Beatrice Stearns

"A giggle, a grin,
A twinkle within,
You'd just know
'Tis mischief she's in!"

Virginia Chapman.

"Our Florence is a quiet lass,
One of the pluggers in our class."

Florence Deegan

"Arlene is a student rare,
True and loyal, fair and square."

Arlene Greenleaf

"She's simply what's sweetest, completest,
and neatest,

A dear little, queer little, sweet little girl."

June Little

"Variety is the very spice of life,
That gives it all its flavor."

Edward Wheeler

"Don't tour around in his bus,
Has a good time,
With never a fuss."

Donald Holt

"He always has a smile
And a good disposition.

We know he'll make good
In any position."

Rupert Grover

"A quiet man is richer than a crown."
Maurice Brooks

"The small boy with a great big voice,
Says a little with a whole lot of noise!"

Herbert Foote

Don't talk to me of girls,
Talk about something sensible."

"Dick" Crockett

"If the heart of me is depressed with cares,
The mist is dispelled when a woman appears."

Edward Mosher

"Lastly come the Kasregis twins,
They're very much alike,
They're friendly, gay, and loyal,
Which adds to our delight."

Julis Kasregis

Mildred Kasregis

Rachel White—Why does she giggle so much?

Garey York—More spinach to make him grow.

STUDENTS' HOME

On a dismal, rainy afternoon last fall, my folks left me on the steps of the Students' home. I had met only one other person in the dormitory, Miss Roop, our dean. As I was late for supper, I was placed at the end of the teachers' table, and there I had my first real glimpse of the faculty members.

Miss Hanscom, Miss Leavengood, Miss Bailey, Miss Roop, Mrs. Walton, and Miss Burris had been here previously, I learned. There were several new teachers, too. Miss Margaret Lundy, from Warrensville, Pennsylvania, was the new science, commercial geography, and arithmetic teacher, taking Mrs. Carroll Bailey's place. Miss Lucille Simpson, who formerly taught with Miss Roop in Michigan, succeeded Mrs. Marjorie Thompson as History and English teacher; Miss Margaret Stevens of Rockland, Maine, replaced Miss Jane Carriek as director of the Home Economics cottage.

The services of a dietitian and nurse had been added too; and Miss Sarah Staples, formerly house superintendent at Mt. Holyoke College and faculty member of Rockford College, was chosen to act in this capacity. Last year's cooks, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Compass, were still serving their notoriously wonderful food in the kitchen.

The next day, the majority of the girls arrived; the old girls were busily renewing acquaintances, while the newcomers were trying to keep all names and faces straight.

My roommate, Lydia Nteeros (Penny to us), proved to be another post graduate, and comes from Bridgton. Next door I found Patricia (Patty) Goodwin of Kezar Falls. On the other side were Anne Logofet and Barbara Whittemore, of Boston and Lincoln, Massachusetts, respectively. Jane Runyon was in the next room down the hall. She comes from Plainfield, New Jersey. Still farther along, I found Myrtle Lancaster and Enid Cloukia of Magalloway. They were both newcomers to Gould.

Across the hall were Nancy Philbrook and Jean Sullivan of New Hampshire. Nancy is from Shelburne and Jean comes from Jackson. Next door to them were the Kasregis twins, Mildred and Julia, of West Peru, Maine. Their coming this year saved Gould from being twinless for the first time in seven years. In the other room on the third floor was Martha Bennett, another new student from Magalloway.

The freshmen and sophomores were placed on the second floor this year. Many of them were new pupils. These were Marilyn (Linny) Howe of Winchester, Massachusetts; June Chipman of South Poland; Elizabeth (Betty) Littlefield of Stoneham, Maine; and Rachel White of Brunswick. The old girls were Ruth Bull and Esther Pike of Waterford, Mary Buck of Naples, Ellen Spear of Rumford, Clara Waterhouse of West Poland, Beatrice (Bee) Canwell of Albany, and Muriel James of Berlin, New Hampshire. Elizabeth (Lizzy) Field of Hebron rooms on the second floor, too, although she is a member of the Junior Class.

We soon became acquainted, and one of our first undertakings was making plans for a dormitory dance. This did not take place, however, until December 4; but we made enough profit to buy games for the sun-parlor.

On October 23, Parents' Day, the girls were hostesses, some helping serve tea in the reception room, while others acted as guides through the dormitory.

Mrs. Walton, our matron, left in October to go to Florida. We learned later that she married and is now Mrs. Paul Wigeli.

When we came back from Christmas vacation, we learned of another marriage. Miss Roop surprised us all by returning as Mrs. Elon Stanley Kitchin. She is now the wife of the Hebron Academy mathematics and winter sports instructor, and will make her home in Hebron next year.

We have had good times together in the Students' Home this year, and it will be with pangs of regret that we leave in June.

HOLDEN HALL NOTES

Well, the old Hall is getting more nearly full every year. One often wonders what keeps the building from giving up the ghost. Perhaps you would like to be introduced to these young men.

May I introduce you to Clinton Estabrook? Clint is the boy who, at practically any time, may be found at the business end of a bugle. What comes out the other end is only too well known to most of us. He did do a fine job at playing Taps last Armistice Day. Clint rooms with James Shields. Jimmy is a newcomer, and is doing all right. He spends a great deal of time peering at the wonders revealed by Alden Marshall's microscope.

Second on our list is George Adams. All it takes to make George happy is a soap-box and an audience. He rooms with Archie Waterhouse. Archer is the man to whom one goes if anything is wrong around the dorm. He is the janitor and does a really wonderful job.

And now may I introduce you to Gurdon Buck, otherwise known as "Bucky." Bucky is at his best in the waiting-room just before a meal. It is here that he gives vent to his pet talent. That is, whistling. If he develops this talent, the "Gouldonians" may acquire a swing-whistler. Bucky's room-mate is the Bing Crosby of the dormitory. He hails from Concord, Massachusetts. Meet Lloyd Kenzie.

We seem to be taking them in pairs; so here are Carl Tucker and his room-mate, Russell Bennett. Russ is the ideal boy, for he is seen but seldom heard. He spends his spare time building model airplanes. Now for Tuck, he is a very economical fellow, because he can live on nothing but potatoes. When he doesn't have enough of them, a fearful hunger overtakes him and he will consume anything he can chew. When he is in the grip of one of these attacks, Tuck rushes from room to room like a starving beggar asking for food.

Next, I shall introduce you to Wilbur Bull. Bill is the only boy in the dorm who is big enough to lick Norm Johnson. His room-mate is Everett Gavel from Stoneham, Massachusetts. "Geeful," as he is called, has a full-fledged aquarium in the cellar.

Now we'll go upstairs and let you meet Carlton Barker and Earle Barlow. Carlton is a very spirited young lad, who generally has a word or two to say at the house meetings. Barker's room-mate is Earle Barlow. Earle cannot get along with Bull at all. He is called "Red," so perhaps you can guess why.

Mr. Raymond Ripley and Mr. Edward Miller are next. These two gentlemen might well be called the Siamese twins of Holden Hall. One is rarely seen without the other. If they had their way, the radio would be tuned either to cowboy music or a serial thriller such as "Tom Mix" or "Little Orphan Annie."

Across the hall from Miller and Ripley is the pleasant abode of a faculty member, Mr. Charles W. Combs. He is a graduate of Amherst College. He is an expert swing-guitarist and leads the "Gouldonians."

It now gives me great pleasure to introduce to you, Gould Academy's own, inimitable, and unmistakable Edward Mosher. Mosher skis, plays the saxophone, and Mosher can talk very well. The last is one of his greatest accomplishments.

Another new addition to the family is Robert Kellaher from Boston. Bob has the same room Bryant Bean occupied last year, and he doesn't enjoy whispering any more than his predecessor.

And now the time has come to acquaint you (if you are not already acquainted) with Alden C. Marshall, professor of photo-microscopy. When he is not engrossed in his microscopy, he is either fighting or walking. I do not hesitate to credit him with the fastest walk in Gould Academy.

If he were here, he would probably introduce himself, but, as I'm supposed to do the introducing, here is Nathaniel Bartholomaei. "Than" runs the percussion department of the swing-band; and practises in his room on the top of his desk and on an old dish-pan. It's lovely!

Herbert Foote receives the full benefit of Than's talents, being just across the hall from him. Herbie is the chubby little chap who may be seen staggering down Church Street every noon, heavily laden with mail bag and various other articles.

Right next door to Herbie is the residence of Mr. Brooks Elliott Macfarland of South Bristol, Maine. Mac runs the library of the dorm. His assortment of magazines is unequalled. There will be anywhere from one to twenty-three boys in his room, all buried in "Look," "Click," "Life," or

"Pic."

The next in line is Edward Caccavo. He inhabits the former infirmary. You all know the song about Eddie—"He Played Fiddle for the Czar."

Last, but not at all least, is my estimable room-mate, Norman Edward Johnson. He's about as fond of getting up in the morning as "Stepin Fetchit." Fire drills are the bane of his existence. If anyone wants to get to his heart, take it from me and start at his stomach.

And now you have been introduced to each of the boys in Holden Hall. My job is done, and so I'll just say so long.

Ralph A. Hatch Jr.

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Lucille H. Simpson of Bisbee, North Dakota replaced Mrs. Marjorie G. Thompson in the departments of English and History. Miss Simpson has the degree of Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor's Diploma of Teaching from the University of North Dakota. She has also studied in the graduate schools of Minnesota University and Northwestern University. Before coming to Bethel, she taught in the high schools of Rolla, North Dakota, Cando, North Dakota, and Marquette, Michigan.

The vacancy brought about by the resignation of Mrs. Kathryn H. Bailey was filled by Miss Margaret C. Lundy of Montoursville, Pennsylvania. Miss Lundy is instructor of Biology and General Science at Gould Academy. She has a Bachelor of Science degree from the Lock Haven Pennsylvania State Teachers' College, and a Master's degree from Columbia University. Miss Lundy taught at Montoursville.

Miss Margaret F. Stevens of Rockland, Maine was elected to succeed Miss Jane E. Carrick, as teacher of Home Economics. Miss Stevens has attended Irving College, Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania; Nasson Institute at Springvale, Maine; and Simmons College at Boston, Massachusetts; receiving her Bachelor of Science degree from the latter institution. After her graduation from Simmons, she taught Home Economics in the high school of Rockland, Maine.

Miss Sarah L. Staples of Mendon, Massachusetts, was engaged as dietitian and nurse for the coming year. Miss Staples comes to Gould Academy with considerable experience in public health work and dietitian. For thirteen years she held the position of Dietitian and House Superintendent of three dormitories at Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Massachusetts. She was later in charge of the infirmary and instructor of Nursing at Rockford College, Rockford, Illinois.

The annual Freshman Reception was held Tuesday evening, October 5. The following students were chosen to serve on committees: program: Bryant Bean, Nancy Philbrook, Helen Crouse, and Jane Chapin; orchestra: Ina Bean, Robert Keniston, and Jean Sullivan; refreshments: Barbara Whittemore, Jane Runyon, Ada Cotton, and Jessie Brooks; decoration: John King, Vivian Berry, Royden Keddy, Ralph Hatch, Christie Thurston, Patricia Goodwin, Arthur Bennett, Norman Johnson, Ethel Jodrey, and Geraldine Stanley; clean-up: Archer Waterhouse, George Adams, Frank Littlehale, Elizabeth Lyon, Elaine Warren, Phyllis Hunt, and Marjorie Fish.

Those in the receiving line were: Principal Philip Sayles and Mrs. Sayles; Dr. George B. Farnsworth, President of the Board of Trustees, and Mrs. Farnsworth; Mrs. Paul Thurston; Mr. Ernest M. Walker, Secretary of the Board of Trustees; Mr. Carroll P. Bailey, Senior Master, and Mrs. Bailey; Mrs. Kitchin,

Dean of Girls; Edward Robertson, President of Senior Class; and Christie Thurston, Secretary of Senior Class. Music was furnished by Lord's Orchestra. The school orchestra, under the direction of Anton Mainente, made its first public appearance of the year, and performed in a manner which drew enthusiastic comment from many quarters. The program was made up of the following selections: march, "Down Main Street," by Werdt; waltz, "The Sleeping Beauty," Tchaikovsky; "Londonderry Air," Anonymous; "Country Gardens," Anonymous. The dance program consisted, in addition to the ordinary numbers, of novelties such as Crossing Bridges, Circle Waltz, Ladies' Choice, Seven-In-Seven-Out.

Students acting as ushers for the reception were: Robert Keniston, Keene Swan, Brooks MacFarland, Frank Littlehale, Bryant Bean, Jane Chapin, Nancy Philbrook, Jane Runyon, Elizabeth Lyon, and Ina Bean.

The second annual Homecoming Day at Gould Academy was held on Saturday, October 23. All parents were invited to be present. The buildings were open for inspection. Competent guides were selected from the student body. Those chosen were Arthur Haselton, Irving Brown, Bernard Bartlett, Maynard Austin, Sherman Williamson, John King, and Warren Tyler.

At 2:00 P. M. the Gould Academy football team met a strong South Paris High School team. Immediately following the football game, tea and light refreshments were served to all parents in the reception room of the Marian True Gehring Students' Home. The "Gouldonians," the newly formed swing orchestra composed of Gould Academy students, furnished music for a tea dance, after the football game, at the William Bingham Gymnasium. A small admission charge was made.

One session of school was held on Wednesday, October 27, and the Academy was closed for the remainder of the week so that the faculty might attend the Teachers' Convention held at Portland, October 28 and 29.

Armistice Day was observed at Gould Academy with a special assembly program.

At Chapel, Friday morning, January 14, the student body and faculty of Gould Academy had as their guest Miss Ruth Harris from the American College of the Philippine Islands, and Miss Harris' hostess, Mrs. Eugene Norton. Miss Harris told of a trip from Shanghai, China, 1200 miles up the Yangtze River into western China. She also spoke in a most interesting manner of life in the Philippine Islands and displayed many objects and curios given to her by Filipino friends. Miss Lydia Norton and Miss Virginia Davis of the student body appeared in native Filipino costumes.

Through the courtesy of the Rev. Percy Clifford of the Methodist Church, the Rev. Jeff Smith, who had been speaking at that church for the past week, was guest entertainer and speaker at an assembly program on Monday morning, January 31. Besides entertaining with an exhibition of braille writing, selections on the musical saw and piano, Rev. Smith gave a short effective talk on "Courage as the Road to Success."

In connection with the English courses, a sound movie of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist," was shown Monday afternoon, January 31.

On February 16, the Academy was closed for a week as a precautionary measure against the possibility of an epidemic of scarlet fever.

The Bethel Band furnished musical entertainment at nearly all basketball games of the season.

On April 18 the Gouldonians played two selections before the student body. At the conclusion Mr. Sayles awarded a special emblem to each of the members of the orchestra for their work during the past school year. The following received an emblem: Jane Chapin, Elizabeth Lyon, Bryant Bean, Edward Caccavo, Robert Keniston, Keene Swan, Lloyd Kennie, Earle Palmer, Romeo Baker, and Nathaniel Bartholomaei.

COMMERCIAL NOTES

The most interesting news we are able to offer from this department is that our hopes of having George Hossfield, seven times World's Professional Typing Champion, come to our school and give a demonstration, have been renewed. Once before Mr. Hossfield had us included in his itinerary, but upon his arrival in Norway and South Paris found instructions to cancel his engagement and return to some other state. The Underwood representative expects to have him here again this spring and has promised to bring him to Bethel for a short lecture and demonstration.

Mr. Hossfield does nothing now but travel in all parts of the country giving these talks and demonstrations to schools for the Underwood Typewriter Company. Anyone who has been privileged to see him knows what a thrill it is to watch a person writing anywhere from 125 to 135 words per minute from unfamiliar material. We sincerely hope we can have him here this year for the entire school to see and enjoy.

New books have been purchased for the shorthand students so that they now have all the books recommended for use with the Functional Method. This method of teaching shorthand, although new, has proven itself by the time and energy it saves. It also enables the slower students who are willing to do their daily lessons to remain in the course for the full year and not drop out as previously. The second-year shorthand people are progressing very rapidly, and are taking dictation around 100 words per minute for the most part. They will finish their shorthand work this term and spend the last six weeks on an intensive course in office practice.

Bookkeeping II pupils are undertaking the most comprehensive set ever used at Gould. This set covers corporation work with a branch store, consignments, factory accounting, cash journal, and several other special features. The work is all done from reproduced pages which represent the actual transactions.

It is anticipated that a change will be made in the bookkeeping course before another year to bring about a more socialized subject. The first year will combine junior business training and bookkeeping. The second-year course will be advanced bookkeeping. There is much need for a course of this nature in a community such as ours.

HOME ECONOMICS

Classes at the cottage have been most thoroughly enjoyed this year, under the supervision of Miss Margaret Stevens of Rockland.

Home Economics I, has an enrollment of twenty; Home Economics II has an enrollment of nineteen; while Home Economics III has five members, it is by no means of the least importance. Home Economics IV has an enrollment of nine which makes just an average class.

Each class has spent a definite amount of time and study on cooking and sewing. The students of Home Economics I, are taking a course in home management. The Home Economics II class is studying textiles. Home Economics III students are learning how to prepare lunches which they serve to the faculty. This class is also studying consumer education. The Home Economics IV class is studying machine attachments, and also family relations.

MANUAL TRAINING

There were quite a number of interesting projects made in the shop this year. A spinning wheel lamp by Robert Whitman proved to be very interesting. Robert Keniston made a very attractive floor lamp, and Keene Swan's collapsible ping pong table was also a very good project. Many of the Sophomores made secretary desks and bookends.

The Manual Training Exhibit, which is to be held in May, should prove interesting as there are now many fine projects in the shop.

The following is a list of the manual training students and their projects. Seniors:

Donald Brown, table lamp; Arthur Haselton, desk, reading lamp; Robert Keniston, floor lamp; Brooks McFarland, floor lamp; Keene Swan, ping pong table, smoking stand; Archer Waterhouse, machinists tool box, bureau; Robert Whitman, spinning wheel, reading lamp.

Juniors:

Parker Brown, sewing box, smoking stand; Richard Crockett, davenport table; Theodore Cummings, floor lamp; Rupert Grover, fruit bowl, fancy mirror and drawers; Mellen Kimball, colonial smoking stand, gun rack;

Dwight Morrill, cedar chest, fancy mirror and drawers; Laurice Morrill, end table, village pump lamp; Paul Stearns, writing desk; Edward Wheeler, smoking stand, fiddle back wall lamp.

Sophomores:

Robert Billings, secretary desk; Irving Brown, book ends; Gurdon Buck, secretary desk; Lee Hutchins, secretary desk; Lloyd Kennie, table lamp; David Kirk, book ends, table; Linwood Mason, end table, bookrack; Harold Young, bookcase; Edward Miller, end table; David Roberts, end table; Bruce Scarborough, secretary desk; George Stearns, secretary desk, bookrack.

The freshman classes completed the requirements of their first year in the shop and made many interesting articles, among which were, knife and fork boxes, book-end lamps, and cigarette stands.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Those giving declamations were very happy to learn that instead of the sophomores and juniors having to give five and the seniors four, the number had been reduced this year to four and three, respectively. This reduction has greatly shortened the number of Wednesday morning programs.

This year the freshmen, instead of giving individual declamations as formerly, gave a demonstration of Choral Speaking. This was an unusually interesting program and was greeted as a worthwhile, as well as a novel, innovation.

Choral speaking is the oral interpretation of poetry or prose by many voices speaking as one. Voices are divided into different parts, much the same as a choir or glee club, according to the character of the particular voice. The high voices are delicate and thin;

the low are heavy, deep, and full; while the medium is a half-way between group. Instead of singing the words, the words are spoken. Sometimes all speak in unison; at other times, perhaps the "highs" will be answered by the "lows," with the medium voices joining in at other times. All kinds of arrangements are used, dependent on the nature of the selection being interpreted.

Choral speaking is a very old art, having been used centuries ago in the Greek drama. Until after the World War, however, it had become a neglected art. Then it became prominent again, principally in England and on the continent, where it is exceedingly popular. Only recently has it gained a following in the United States, but it is steadily increasing in favor. Such well-known colleges as Vassar, Mt. Holyoke, Wellesley, Columbia, Ohio State, University of Wisconsin and many others are offering special courses in this subject. Now the more progressive of the secondary and grammar schools are realizing its importance and are introducing it in their classes. It is noteworthy that Gould Academy should be among the first to begin work on this old, yet new, field of Public Speaking.

The freshmen presented the following program:

"The Green o' the Spring,"

Denis A. McCarthy
Boys and Girls

"America for Me,"

Henry Van Dyke
Boys

"Ballad of the Oysterman,"

Oliver W. Holmes

"Lost,"

Celia Thaxter
Girls

"Pirate Don Durk of Dowdee,"

Mildred Merryman
Boys and Girls

"GOULD REVUE"

On November 10, the Boys' "Y" and Girl Reserves, under Miss Leavengood's able direction, united to give one of the most interesting, unique, and profitable entertainments ever presented by this school. Every available seat was filled and around one hundred and ten dollars worth of tickets were sold.

According to the master of ceremonies, Herbert Foote, the costumes for the show had not arrived and Miss Leavengood had gone to try to locate them. At the time the show was scheduled to begin she was not there; so after various excuses from himself, and threats and exclamations from his confederates in the audience, Edward Miller, Pat Goodwin, and George Adams, Herbert called on people in the audience for acts.

The first volunteer was Lewis Porter with Murray Thurston, Nancy Philbrook, Donald Brown, and Earl Palmer in a play he was supposed to have written, "The Correspondence School Detective." Then Vivian Berry as "The Grand Opera (?) Singer" offered to sing, if Jane Chapin would accompany her on the piano. At the next call, John King exhibited some of the greatest magical acts ever performed, with the help of his most able assistant, Sir Winkle, Bryant Bean. In "A Little Family Affair," Romeo Baker and Isabel Tuell sang to the accompaniment of Romeo's guitar. Next, Edward Robertson and Christie Thurston put on a mind-reading act. Some of their thoughts were very greatly appreciated by the audience. The next skit was one which had been included in the original program, "Wrong Numbers," with Arlene Greenleaf, Lydia Norton, and Elaine Warren.

Other features of the program included selections by the "Gouldonians"; three selections by the Girls' Glee Club: "La Cucaracha," "Dream Hours," and "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" with specialty dancers, Ina Bean, Elizabeth

Lyon, Helen Crouse, and Geraldine Stanley; also "Arithmetic," a tap dance by the teacher, Barbara Lyon, and her pupils, Mary Clough, Mary Robertson, Virginia Smith, and June Little.

SENIOR PLAY

The senior play, "The Whole Town's Talking" by John Emerson and Anita Loos, was enthusiastically received on April 14th by the largest audience in years to be assembled at the gymnasium to witness a dramatic performance of Gould Academy. There were many extremely funny situations caused by Chet Binney's trying to live up to the "talk of the town" resulting from his faked love affair with the great movie star, Letty Lythe. Roars of laughter occurred at the end of Act II when Letty turned the tables on her jealous lover and Chet by pretending really to have had an affair with Binney. Poor Binney was completely overcome, and the audience very nearly was, too, by excess laughter. Perhaps even more hilarity was caused at the very end of the play after the hectic fight in the dark, in which Chet emerged, perched safely away from all danger, on top of the clock on the fireplace!

All members of the cast, from those with minor parts to those of the leads, performed their parts with exceptional skill. All are to be congratulated on a most excellent performance. Special laurels must be handed to the two male leads, Bryant Bean and Edward Caccavo, who with the major portion of speaking lines, kept the play moving throughout at a fast pace. In fact, the whole performance was done in a highly professional manner and both cast and director, Miss Ruth Leavengood, deserve much praise for a most entertaining evening.

The entire cast was as follows:

Dwight Morrill, cedar chest, fancy mirror and drawers; Laurice Morrill, end table, village pump lamp; Paul Stearns, writing desk; Edward Wheeler, smoking stand, fiddle back wall lamp.

Sophomores:

Robert Billings, secretary desk; Irving Brown, book ends; Gurdon Buck, secretary desk; Lee Hutchins, secretary desk; Lloyd Kennie, table lamp; David Kirk, book ends, table; Linwood Mason, end table, bookrack; Harold Young, bookcase; Edward Miller, end table; David Roberts, end table; Bruce Scarborough, secretary desk; George Stearns, secretary desk, bookrack.

The freshman classes completed the requirements of their first year in the shop and made many interesting articles, among which were, knife and fork boxes, book-end lamps, and cigarett stands.

MUSIC

The Gouldonians, newly formed dance orchestra, made its debut to the Academy on the eighth of October when it played at the Boys' Dorm Party held in the gym. Later the same month the band sponsored a successful tea dance. Up to the time of this writing the organization has performed at eight school functions, the last being the successful Rhythmic Revue put on by the orchestra the week-end before spring vacation.

The personnel of this year's band includes Mr. Charles Combs, director; Edward Caccavo, violin; Lloyd Kennie, trombone and vocalist; Bryant Bean, clarinet; Keene Swan, 1st trumpet; Robert Keniston, 2nd trumpet; Jane Chapin, piano; Elizabeth Lyon, 1st sax; Earle Palmer, 3rd sax; Romeo Baker, guitar, and Nathaniel Bartholomaei, drums.

The Gouldonians, as a part of the Academy's extra-curricula activities, have been a development of the spontaneous musical outbursts at Friday night dances during the school year of 1936-1937. When school commenced this year, feeling was found to be strongly in favor of an organized school dance orchestra. The Gouldonians have been the result.

On June 10, 1937, the school orchestra, under the direction of Anton Eugene Mainente, played at the graduation exercises. The "War March" by Mendelssohn was played for the march, and other selections were "Toy Soldiers" by Kreisler, "Down Main Street" by Weidt, and "Londonderry Air" and "Country Gardens."

The orchestra made its debut this year at the Freshman Reception. Considering the fact that the orchestra had time for only one rehearsal before the formance, the numbers were well played and received by a pleased audience.

It is expected that the school orchestra will play at the graduation exercises this year, at which a medley of "Victor Herbert's Favorites" will be the outstanding selection. The members of the orchestra are: Madeliene Hall and Bryant Bean, clarinets; Edward Caccavo and Lydia Nteeros, violins; Isabel Tuell, viola; Edward Mosher, saxophone; Robert Keniston, 1st trumpet; Keene Swan, 2nd trumpet, and Claire Tebbets, piano.

The Chapel Choir, which presides every morning at school assembly, is in its second year of existence. It has been an excellent addition to morning services and has well earned its popularity with the school. The names of its participants are as follows: Sopranos: June Little, Barbara Lyon, Patricia Goodwin, Elizabeth Lyon, Vivian Berry, and Ada Cotton; Altos: Florice Grover, Geraldine Stanley, Jane Chapin, Nancy Philbrook, Elizabeth Field, and Arlene Greenleaf; Tenors: Arthur Bennett, Bryant Bean, Earle Palmer, Lloyd Kennie, Mellen Kimball, Bernard Bartlett, Lewis Porter, and Theodore Cummings. The bass singers are John King, Frank Littlehale, Edward Robertson, Dana Brooks, Romeo Baker, and Donald Holt. Accompanist, Claire Tebbets.

The Boys' Glee Club has met twice a week this past year under the direction of Miss Leavengood, with Barbara Hall sharing the duties of accompanist with Miss Leavengood. The members of the Boys' Glee Club are Bruce Scarborough, Earle Palmer, Theodore Cummings, Bernard Bartlett, Edward Robertson, Frank Littlehale, Lloyd Kennie, Mellen Kimball, Romeo Baker, Donald Holt, Howard Aubin, Dana Brooks, Edward Wheeler, and Lewis Porter.

Glee Club pins were awarded this spring to Lewis Porter, Donald Holt, Bryant Bean, Edward Robertson, and Theodore Cummings for three years' membership in the club. Mellen Kimball and Frank Littlehale are completing four years in the club.

Last year on May 12 the Girls' Glee Club gave its initial public performance, assisted by a few students representing the Public Speaking Department. The program was held in the gym before a good sized audience, which showed much appreciation for both the musical and speaking numbers.

The Glee Club of forty-seven girls in their white dresses, and black ties made an interesting picture on three tiers on the stage. The club sang in an exceedingly creditable manner. All the numbers were memorized and the club's interpretation of unusually attractive songs made it a real pleasure to listen to.

The oral selections which were given were chosen by Miss Leavengood as being among the best which were given as declamations in the assembly room throughout the year. They were given by the following: Shurwin Bennett, Dwight Stiles, Margaret Tibbetts, Herbert Foote, Ethel Jodrey, Bryant Bean, Arlene Greenleaf, June Little, Lydia Norton, and Claire Tebbets.

This year on May 5th the second joint program of music and declamations was given to an enthusiastic audience. Those appearing with the Glee Club this year were: Elizabeth Field, Anne Ring, Ada Cotton, Arlene Greenleaf, and Ann Logofet.

A special feature of the evening was the first presentation at Gould Academy of Choral Speaking by the Freshmen girls. Their novel presentations were very much enjoyed.

The girls who received glee club pins for three years' membership are: Ina Bean, Margaret Bennett, Sylvia Bird, Mary Clough, Florence Deegan, Barbara Lyon, Lydia Norton, Mary Robertson, Virginia Smith, Geraldine Stanley, Kathleen Wight, Jane Runyon, and Barbara Whittemore. Girls with four years' membership are: Vivian Berry, Jessie Brooks, Jane Chapin, Ada Cotton, Marjorie Fish, Elizabeth Lyon, and Nancy Philbrook.

All but the senior members of the Glee Club will furnish Baccalaureate music this year, as has been the custom for the past four years. The girls will sing "Glorious Forever" by Rachmaninoff, and "This is my Task" by E. L. Ashford.

GIRL RESERVES NOTES

On September 28th, 1937, the Girl Reserves planned to take their annual fall hike, but because of rain it was changed to an indoor affair. The sponsors, women teachers, faculty wives, and sixty-six girls met in the William Bingham Gymnasium, at four o'clock, and spent the next hour in dancing and getting acquainted with the prospective new members. Then a picnic supper of hot dogs, rolls, cake and coffee was served. After supper, dancing was resumed. Many reported it to be one of the best parties given by the Girl

Reserves.

On October 20th, the initiation of the new Girl Reserves was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium. The following girls were initiated: Joyce Abbott, Hope Bailey, Pauline Bean, Ruth Bean, June Chipman, Natalie Foster, Abigail Gill, Muriel Hall, Mary Jodrey, Fern Lane, Lillian Leighton, Betty Littlefield, Katharine Loomis, Barbara Luxton, Lillian Lovejoy, Joyce Swan, Francine Warren, Rachel White, Madelyn Bird, Kathryn McMillin, Ethelyn McMillin, Erma Richardson, Eva Vashaw, Sylvia Bird, Marilyn Howe, Mildred Kasregis, Julia Kasregis, Anne Logofet, Lydia Norton, Mary Robertson, Caroline Swift, Ina Bean, Hazel Billings, Jean Sullivan, Barbara Whittemore, Lydia Nteeros, and Isabel Tuell. The service, impressive and beautiful, with the girls in white dresses and carrying candles, was in charge of Christie Thurston, the president. There were seventy-two girls and ten parents and friends present. After the initiation service, ice-cream and cookies were served. Then the girls danced until five o'clock, when they left looking forward to the Girl Reserve activities of the year.

On October 25th, the Girl Reserves were entertained by the sponsors, Mrs. Earl Davis, Mrs. Edward Lyon, and Mrs. Leslie Davis, at a Hallowe'en party in Leslie Davis's lumber shed. Christie Thurston received a prize for the best costume, and honorable mention was given to Catherine Lyon as Mae West, to Lydia Norton as a Spanish lady, to Kathleen Wight as a skeleton, and to Arlene Greenleaf as Little Red Riding Hood. The girls played games, went into Bluebeard's Chamber and the Cave of Horrors. Cider and doughnuts were served. At nine-thirty the girls left, having spent a most enjoyable evening.

The following girls were the delegates to the State convention held at Lewiston: Barbara Lyon, Mary Clough, Jane Chapin, Christie Thurston, Nancy Philbrook, and Virginia Davis. At the convention Mary Clough was elected state secretary of the Girl Reserves.

At a meeting held in the Assembly Hall November 23, the delegates to the convention gave these reports: Mary Clough, a general report; Barbara Lyon, the banquet attended; Jane Chapin, a special group meeting; Christie Thurston, a special group meeting; Nancy Philbrook, the music of the convention. At the close of the meeting Jane Chapin led in singing "Ain't Gonna Grieve My Lord Anymore" and "Follow the Gleam."

The Girl Reserves met in the Assembly Hall after school Tuesday, December 11th. Christmas carols were sung. Nancy Philbrook read two Christmas poems. Miss Roop, now Mrs. Kitchin, gave a very interesting talk on her trip to Alaska. We then enjoyed refreshments served in the Home Economic Cottage by Miss Simpson, sponsor.

After school, Monday, February 1st, 1938, a meeting was held by the Girl Reserves in the Assembly Room. Miss Simpson explained the programs planned for the rest of the year. She suggested that the meetings be conducted as forums or informal discussions. The forum could be conducted by one of the girls, with a teacher to give final decisions on any matter when it became necessary. The meetings were to cover the following topics: dress, health, personality and character, manners, boy friends, and hobbies. Lydia Nteeros gave a very interesting description of her trip to the British Isles, as one of the Youth Hostellers. We closed the meeting by singing "Softly Now the Light of Day" and "Follow the Gleam."

The Girl Reserves had a meeting in the Assembly Hall Monday, March 7th, 1938. Jane Runyon and Miss Stevens took charge of a forum discussion on suitable dress for different occasions. The meeting was closed by singing "Follow the Gleam."

At a meeting held on April 20th, the following new officers were elected:

President—Mary Clough
 Vice-President—Marilyn Howe
 Secretary—Kathryn Davis
 Treasurer—Kathleen Wight
 Social Chairman—Elizabeth Field
 Refreshment Chairman—June Little
 Program Chairman—Barbara Lyon

 Worship Chairman—Katharine Loomis
 Poster Committee—Virginia Smith, Anne Logofet

Also at this meeting, plans for a banquet and installation of new officers were discussed. The banquet is scheduled to be held on Thursday, May 19th, in the dining room of the Girls' Dormitory. After the business meeting Jean Sullivan and Mrs. Kitchin conducted a forum discussion on boy-friends.

Y. M. C. A.

The Boys' "Y" has had a successful year under the faculty leadership of Mr. Sayles. At a meeting early in the year the following officers were elected. President, Edward Robertson; Vice-President, Murray Thurston; Secretary, Bryant Bean; Treasurer, Frank Littlehale. On November 19, the "Y" sent twelve delegates to the Older Boys' Conference in Augusta, accompanied by Mr. Sayles and Mr. Combs. The boys who made the trip were George Adams, Bryant Bean, Arthur Bennett, Arthur Haselton, Norman Johnson, Robert Keniston, John King, Frank Littlehale, Brooks McFarland, Lewis Porter, Keene Swan, and Edward Robertson.

The Winter Carnival, which is sponsored each year by the Y. M. C. A., was originally scheduled for February 20; but because of the outbreak of scarlet fever the outdoor events were held on March 1. In the morning the ski-jumping, downhill, and Class A Slalom were held at the ski-jump. In the afternoon the dashes were held on the athletic field, and the girls' Slalom and the boys' Class B Slalom were held behind the girls' dormitory. The winners in the different events were:

BOYS

Ski-jumping: first, Frank Littlehale; second, Sidney Howe; third, Clayton Crockett; fourth, Richard Crockett, and Buddy Clough.

Slalom Class A: first, Frank Littlehale; second, Romeo Baker; third, Wilbur Bull; fourth, Erland Wentzell.

Slalom Class B: first, Lloyd Kennie; second, Mellen Kimball; third, Buddy Clough; fourth, Dana Brooks.

Downhill: first, Dana Brooks; second, Romeo Baker; third, Frank Littlehale; fourth William Howe.

100 yard Ski Dash: first, Donald Holt; second, tie between Keene Swan and Buddy Clough; fourth Edward Miller.

100 yard Snowshoe Dash: first Stanley Harvey; second, Edward Miller; third, Bud Clough; fourth, Archer Waterhouse.

Three Legged Race: first Stanley Harvey and Donald Holt; second, tie between George Adams and Archer Waterhouse, and Wilbur Bull and Buddy Clough; fourth Bruce Scarborough and Sherman Williamson.

Cross Country Ski Race: first, Mellen Kimball; second, Edward Miller; third, Keene Swan; fourth, Wilbur Bull.

GIRLS

100 yard Ski Dash: first, Madelyn Bird; second, Kathryn McMillin; third, Ruth Bull; fourth, Ada Cotton.

100 yard Snowshoe Dash: first Helen

Lowe; second, Kathryn Davis; third, Barbara Lyon; fourth, Kathryn McMillin.

Three Legged Race: first, Kathryn Davis and Ethelyn McMillin; second, Barbara Lyon and Virginia Smith; third, Jessie Brooks and Ada Cotton; fourth, Virginia Chapman and Anne Logofet.

Downhill: first, Patricia Goodwin; second, Jean Sullivan; third, Madelyn Bird; fourth, Kathryn McMillin.

The Juniors received the winter sports trophy with 40½ points, against 31 points for the Seniors and Sophomores and 27 points for the Freshmen.

The Carnival Ball which was held on March 5, with Lord's Orchestra in attendance, was a great success. The decoration committee deserves great praise for the attractive decorations since they had less than half the time usually required for decorating the gymnasium because of the single session of school on Saturday morning. There were two specialties during the evening; the first, a vocal solo by Lloyd Kennie, and the second, several numbers by the Hill Billies made up of Charlie Combs, Ed Caccavo, John King, and Bryant Bean. The other committees also deserve praise, since without them the Carnival could not have been held.

ATHLETICS

For the second time in six official seasons of football Gould has finished with an undefeated team. This year's team turned out to be a more or less surprise team, as they easily won from their stronger opponents, but were held to a scoreless tie by a weak Fryeburg team early in the season.

With only four veterans and a very few reliable substitutes, this team showed itself to be made up of the traditional "iron men." The back field consisted of Ed Robertson, Parker Brown, Romeo Baker, and Norman Johnson. The regular linemen were Ralph Hatch, Robert Keniston, Dana Brooks, Frank Littlehale, Don Holt, Mike Thurston, and Stan Harvey; with three good reserve players in Buddy Clough, Teddy Cummings, and Sidney Howe.

The team of 1938 will miss Eddy Robertson, Norman Johnson, Frank Littlehale, Ralph Hatch, Robert Keniston, and Romeo Baker; but prospects look bright with the return of Parker Brown, Stanley Harvey, Mike Thurston, Don Holt, Dana Brooks, Sidney Howe, Buddy Clough, Ted Cummings, and a number of other good prospects.

The summary of the year's games is as follows:

Gould 19—Livermore Falls ...	0
Gould 0—Fryeburg Academy	0
Gould 20—Bridgton	0
Gould 12—Norway	0
Gould 14—South Paris	6
Gould 20—Mexico	7
85	13

Football men receiving the Gould "G" were: Eddy Robertson, Norman

Front Row: left to right—Parker Brown, Ralph Hatch, Bob Keniston, Dana Brooks, Frank Littlehale, Don Holt, Capt.-elect Murray Thurston, Stanley Harvey, Capt. Eddy Robertson. Middle Row: Buddy Clough, Sidney Howe, Ted Cummings, Romeo Baker, Norman Johnson, Earle Palmer, Bernard Bartlett, Everett Gavel. Back Row: Coach O. H. Anderson, Mgr. Alden Marshall, Sherman Williamson, Gurdon Buck, Mgr. George Adams, Coach W. R. Myers.

Johnson, Parker Brown, Stanley Harvey, Murray Thurston, Dana Brooks, Frank Littlehale, Don Holt, Robert Keniston, Ralph Hatch, and Sidney Howe.

BASKETBALL

Gould had an exceptionally fine basketball team this year. The team won 15 out of 18 games played.

In the 18 games played this year Gould registered 672 points to the opponents 492 or an average of better than 37 to 27 per game. Johnson, playing center, collected a total of 227 points, with Eddy Robertson, captain and left guard, scoring 115 points. Of the three forwards, Palmer led with 97 points, Wentzell made 94 points, and McFarland gathered 70 points after becoming eligible in mid-season. Parker Brown, right guard, scored 51 points. The regulars were: Captain Eddy Robertson, Norman Johnson, Rodney Wentzell, Brooks McFarland, and Parker Brown, with Earl Palmer, Buddy Clough, and Don Holt doing most of the substituting. During the first part of the season, Don Brown was the substitute who saw the most action.

CO-CHAMPIONS OF THE WESTERN MAINE CONFERENCE

Both Gould and Fryeburg Academy finished the conference schedule winning eight games and losing two. The two teams were very evenly matched. Gould won the first game 33-24, while Fryeburg won the second game 45-37. Gould had the edge in the third game by defeating Fryeburg 29-27 in the semi-finals at the Lewiston Tourney. Both Gould and Fryeburg were presented trophies designating them as co-champions of the Western Maine Conference.

GOULD "RUNNERS-UP" IN LEWISTON TOURNEY

Not only was Gould a co-champion of the Western Maine Conference this year, but they were runners-up in the Lewiston Tournament. At the tourney, Gould played Thomaston, Fryeburg, and Hallowell. Gould won the first game with Thomaston 28-23, and won the semi-final game, with Fryeburg, 29-27. This game proved to be the best game of the tournament. Fryeburg was a little over-confident and Gould played a very fine game. The game ended with a thrill when McFarland sank a beautiful long shot from the center, in an over-time period to win the game for Gould. Although in the final game of the tourney, Gould lost to Hallowell 42-40, the home team fought a hard battle and played an excellent game.

Over one hundred Bethel fans journeyed to Lewiston to support the team. They had the satisfaction of finding the Gould team the favorites in every game they played.

Lewiston sports writers mentioned Eddy Robertson, Norman Johnson, Rodney Wentzell, and Brooks McFarland as among the best ball handlers at the Tournament.

As "runners up" in the tournament, the Gould quintet received a very fine trophy.

Men receiving the Gould "G" were: Captain Edward Robertson, Norman Johnson, Rodney Wentzell, Earl Palmer, Brooks McFarland, and Parker Brown.

The summary of games played is as follows:

TRACK

Under the guidance of Coach Fossett and Assistant Coach Combs, Gould's track team turned in a very fine record last season. Gould won a decisive victory over South Paris, 84-15, in a dual meet, placing first in every event and second in many events. The scorers for Gould were as follows: 100 yard dash: first, Stiles, second, Don Brown; mile run: first, Kimball; second, Swain; javelin throw: first, Stiles, third, Don Holt; broad jump: first, Stiles, third, McFarland; 220 yard dash: first, Dick Young, second, Stiles; shot put: first McFarland, third, Sidney Howe; hammer throw: first, Chase, second, Murray Thurston; 440 yard dash: first, Dick Young, second, Robert Moore; high jump: first, Don Brown, third, McFarland; discus throw: first, Robert Keniston, third, Don Brown.

Gould also won a hard fought dual meet with Norway, Oxford County Champions, 64-53. The scorers for Gould were as follows: D. Stiles: first in 100 yard dash, first in broad jump, second in low hurdles, second in javelin; R. Young: first in 220 yard dash, first in 440 yard dash; O. Robertson: second in mile run; E. Robertson: second in 440 yard dash; Don Brown: second in 100 yard dash, third in 220 yard dash, second in high jump, third in discus throw; B. McFarland: first in javelin, third in shot-put, third in pole vault; E. Holt: second in 880 yard run, third in javelin throw; S. Chase, third in hammer throw; R. Swain: first in mile run; M. Kimball: third in 880 yard run.

Gould placed second in the Oxford County Track Meet at Hebron. Gould scorers in the meet were as follows: R. Young, 8 points, first in 440 yard dash, second in 220 yard dash; D. Stiles, 8 points, second in broad jump, second in javelin, third in 100 yard dash; O. Robertson, 5 points, first in mile; B. McFarland, 5 points, second in high hurdles, fourth in 880 yard run, fourth in broad jump; R. Keniston, 5 points, first in discus; D. Brown, 4 points, tied for first in high jump; M. Kimball, 3 points, second in mile run; R. Swain, 2 points, third in mile run; E. Holt, 2 points, third in 880 yard run; R. Moore, 2 points, third in high hurdles; E. Holt, 2 points, fourth in shot put, fourth in javelin throw; S. Chase, 1 point, fourth in hammer throw; total 47 points.

In the state meet at Portland, Captain Stiles placed first in the javelin throw, Bob Keniston placed third in the discus throw, and Brooks McFarland placed fourth in the javelin throw to give Gould sixth place, out of eighteen schools competing in Class B.

BASEBALL

The Gould Academy team of 1937 won five and lost five of the ten games played.

The team had four hard-hitting batters in Carl Tucker, E. Robertson, O. Robertson, and E. Wentzell. Tucker led with an average of .395, E. Robertson was a close second with an average of .387. The next two batters were O. Robertson with an average of .333 and E. Wentzell with an average of .325.

Of the three pitchers, Lefty Keniston had the best record, winning 2 games and losing 1; Macfarland won 3 and lost 3, while Swain won 0 and lost 1.

The Schedule:

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Officers of the Girls' Athletic Council:

President—Nancy Philbrook
Vice-President—Helen Lowe
Sec. and Treas.—Madelyn Bird
Senior Rep.—Helen Crouse
Junior Rep.—Barbara Lyon

Soph. Rep.—Kathryn Davis
Fresh. Rep.—Mary Jodrey
Mgr. of Hiking—Virginia Smith
Mgr. of Horseshoes—Edna Young
Mgr. of Basketball—Geraldine Stanley
Mgr. of Volley Ball—Mary Clough
Mgr. of Winter Sports—Virginia Davis
Mgr. of Tennis—Jane Chapin
Mgr. of Baseball—Margaret Bennett
Faculty Advisor—Miss Dorothy Hanscom

Horseshoes

Within a very short time after school opened in the fall, the land behind the girls' dormitory was the scene of hilarious laughter and great clanking as the girls reported for practice at pitching horseshoes. This year the annual horseshoe tournament was won by the Junior Class, but only after the Seniors had played off a tie.

Hiking

The paper on which the girls interested in hiking were to sign up was posted the second week of school, and the hikes got underway immediately. Each girl was required to take six supervised hikes of 45 minutes and six 45 minute individual hikes. After a reasonable percentage of these had been completed, the girls were allowed to start the longer hikes. These consisted of one five mile hike and one eight mile hike. These last two were individual hikes. The hiking season continued well into November.

Play Day

On October 16, Bates College held its annual Play Day which is sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association at the college. Some girls from Gould were invited to attend, and the following girls were chosen to represent the school.

Nancy Philbrook
Elizabeth Lyon
Margery Fish
Elizabeth Field
June Little

Mary Robertson
Virginia Davis
Madelyn Hall
Catherine McMillan
Francine Warren

Basketball

This year there was an exceptionally large number of girls out for basketball. The entire squad numbered 71 girls. The class with the largest representation was the Junior class.

This year the class championship went to the Juniors. They had a record of five games won and only one lost. This game was lost to the Seniors who failed to win the second time the two teams met. The Seniors were second in the class games, having a record of four wins against two losses. In each of these class games, of which each class played six, the under class is allowed a substantial handicap to make the games closer and more exciting, and at the same time to give the Freshman and Sophomore girls, who have had less experience, a better chance to come out victorious.

The high-point scorer for the Senior Class was Phyllis Hunt, while Helen Lowe chalked up the largest score for Junior Class, Virginia Davis for the Sophomores and Katherine Loomis for the Freshmen.

The varsity squad for the 1937-1938 season consisted of the following girls:

Vivian Berry	Geraldine Stanley
Helen Crouse	Phyllis Hunt
Patricia Goodwin	Mary Clough
Nancy Philbrook	Jean Sullivan
Helen Lowe	Margaret Bennett

Perhaps this year the varsity team was not an outstanding team, but it was a hard working team which showed plenty of fight when the occasion arose. Next year the varsity will find itself considerably weakened by the graduation of six of the squad. However, all the squad saw service during the season, and from this the underclassmen have gained valuable experience which will be of benefit to them and the team the following season. Nancy Philbrook, Patricia Goodwin, and Helen Lowe, aided by Phyllis Hunt, were very valuable to the teams as forwards; and the guards: Vivian Berry, Helen Crouse, Geraldine Stanley, and Jean Sullivan put up a fine defense. Helen Lowe, Mary Clough, and Margaret Bennett will surely form a good nucleus for the team of next year.

The season opened with a game with Oxford. It was a closely fought game up to the very end, and resulted in a 27-27 tie.

In the second game which was also played with Oxford, the Gould girls failed to come up to their playing in the former game, and the result was an overwhelming victory for Oxford.

Next Gould met South Paris. This was another closely fought battle, again ending in a tie.

The last game of the season was played with Mechanic Falls. This was also a close game, and all the forwards played an exceptionally good game, but the game was lost by one basket.

Due to a loss of one week of school on account of a scarlet fever epidemic, the return games with Mechanic Falls and South Paris had to be canceled.

Winter Sports

This year the interest in Winter Sports was especially keen. Each class had a large representation out for it. Each girl was required to put in a certain number of hours a week out of doors. This time could be spent either in skiing, snowshoeing, skating, or sliding. Also this year several winter hikes were taken.

The annual winter carnival was postponed once, but when it finally did arrive, all the girls showed a lively interest in it. Each girl who won in an event at the carnival had additional points credited her in Winter Sports, and the competition was keen. This year the Sophomores were successful in winning the largest percentage of events at the Carnival. This gave them five points toward the cup which is presented to the class with the greatest number of points at the end of the year.

Spring Sports

At the present time the girls desiring to play volley ball are practicing at the gym. Within a short time, class teams will be chosen and the championship will be played off.

Later in the spring baseball teams will be formed, and all girls desiring this sport will have ample opportunity to engage in it. At the same time there will be tennis instruction given, and it is hoped many girls will take advantage of this opportunity.

GYM EXHIBITION

The annual Girls' Physical Education Demonstration was held Thursday evening, March 24, in the William Bingham Gymnasium. The program was under the direction of Miss Dorothy Hanscom, who is head of the Girls' Physical Education Department. All the events were greatly enjoyed by the spectators.

The girls from the four different classes marched in together forming a very colorful picture in their blue, orange, lavender, and green gym suits. The "Arithmetic" tap dance was given by the following girls: Barbara Lyon, June Little, Virginia Smith, and Mary Robertson. Barbara Lyon being the "teacher" and the other girls her pupils. The "Dobbin" dance afforded the greatest amusement of the evening for it presented a rather decrepit old horse, who very often did not have proper synchronization of his front and hind parts, but for all his age, he delivered a very fine kick at the end.

The Grand Finale was the formation of a "G" and an "A," in the school colors, by the girls in the orange and blue gym suits. The remaining girls formed a border, and after three cheers the girls marched off while singing the "Pep Song."

OUR PURPOSE

It is the purpose of Concord College of Business to provide superior training in business for young men and young women of ability and good background, and to prepare them for positions of trust, responsibility and leadership in the business world.

The paramount aim in preparing the various courses of instruction is to make them of College-grade, above the caliber of those offered in the high schools. You should be interested.
